

LibriVox

Earle Ashley Walcott
BLINDFOLDED

BLINDFOLDED

Blindfolded

by Earle Ashley Walcott (1859-1931)

Giles Dudley is called upon by his cousin Henry Wilton to assist him in San Francisco, but the reason for the summons is not at all clear. Dudley answers the summons, only to find himself immediately wrapped in the middle of mystery and intrigue, the roots and ends of which he is utterly unaware. He has been given to care for a mysterious young boy whom he hasn't even seen. His cousin has mysteriously disappeared. Dudley's role in the mystery has him convinced that as he goes about trying to assist his cousin with whatever it was he wanted to accomplish, he does so completely blindfolded.

Total running time: 10:57:39

Read by Roger Melin

Cover design by Kathryn Delaney
From Telegraph Hill by Joseph Pennell (c.1912)

LibriVox

Acoustical liberation of books
in the Public Domain

Earle Ashley Walcott

Earle Ashley Walcott

BLINDFOLDED